8:30 a.m. Opening and Keynote: How are you? (Seriously) with Nora McInerney, author and podcast host
How Are You? (Seriously). That's kind of a dumb question given the state of, oh, everything? But we ask and answer this every day without thinking. It's small talk, right? But it's also a question worth answering honestly with the people who matter (like yourself). In a culture where people love a winner and a success story, how do we make space for the truth when it's complicated or awkward or painful? Nobody wants to kill the vibe, but everyone wants to feel seen and heard. So let's talk about it (I promise it won't be a bummer).
