Developmental Screening

Check in on how your child is growing and learning.

Early Childhood Developmental Screenings are checks that help parents understand how their child is developing and growing.

Early Childhood Developmental Screenings help parents support their child's development.

A screening provider will check how your child moves, plays, talks, and behaves. The earlier you have your child screened, the more time you have to address any needs.

Screening providers can even help parents learn new ways they can best support their child. Screenings can take place at your child's clinic, school, or even in your home. Learn where to access our screening programs that can help you understand your child's development.
